School Districts Stand To Lose $134,599

By DON ALLEN
Daily Recorder Reporter

FOUR Monroe County School districts stand to lose $134,599.32 in state appropriations unless the State Legislature freezes the reimbursement fractions at the same level as last year.

The affected districts are East Stroudsburg Area Jointure, Eldred Township, Pleasant Valley Jointure, and Pocono Mountains Jointure, according to Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools.

Sebring's compilation does not include Stroud Union School District, as its figures do not go through the county office. An estimate, however, is that Stroud Union may lose as much as $50,000 unless the measure, House Bill 645, is enacted into law.

Must Be Made Up

Sebring points out that loss of the state subsidy means that the deficit must be made up by taxes at the local level. Sixteen municipal sub-divisions face millage hikes ranging from one-half to eight mills if the figures are not frozen at last year's totals.

State appropriations are based on three figures — a basic account standard reimbursement fraction; subsidiary account reimbursement fraction on teaching units; and a municipal account reimbursement fraction.

The basic account standard fraction is used to compute reimbursement for elementary and secondary education, nurse service and transportation and secondary tuition payments.

The subsidiary account fraction computes reimbursement on transportation, jointure and merged or union supplemental appropriation, extension and homebound instruction.

The capital account quotient is used to compute reimbursement on rental payments to either the State School Building Authority or to a municipal authority.

Also Involved

Also involved in the complicated formulas by which reimbursement is determined is the market value of real estate in the district as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board.

Each year, the STEB issues a new set of market values. This is the first year, however, that the amount to be lost by the local districts is so high.

John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, has written school board presidents and secretaries, supervising principals and principals urging them to contact Rep. Van D. Yetter and Sen. William Z. Scott, asking their support of the temporary measure.

The county office is also urging permanent legislation "to get the base subsidy up to the point where it will pay the cost of education per pupil, something that the present subsidy does not do."

Litts In Touch

Litts has also communicated directly with Yetter and Scott, pointing out the loss in revenue based on Sebring's figures and urging prompt action on freezing the reimbursement fractions at last year's level.

Based on Sebring's figures, the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure stands to lose $40,721.85 in state aid; Eldred Township, $3,482.75;

Pleasant Valley Jointure, $31,183.70 and Pocono Mountains Jointure, $59,211.22.

Only two districts — Lehman and Porter Townships, both in the East Stroudsburg Jointure — show no loss. This is because their reimbursement fractions are the minimum set by law.

Losses Compiled

According to Sebring, the loss in each of the districts and the increase in millage needed to compensate for it includes:

East Stroudsburg Area Jointure

— East Stroudsburg Borough, $8,664.55, 1.1; Middle Smithfield Township, $19,934.38, 6.4; Price Township, $2,587.20, 5.1; Smithfield Township, $9,535.72, 2.8.

Eldred Township — $3,482.75, 3.5.

Pleasant Valley Jointure — Chestnut Hill Township, $13,244.70, 5.2; Polk Township, $10,602.29, 7.6; Ross Township, $7,336.71, 6.7.

Pocono Mountains Jointure — Barrett Township, $7,735.30, 1.0; Coolbough Township, $7,470.93, 3.2; Jackson Township, $7,467.99, 5.7; Mt. Pocono Borough, $7,666.17, 3.3; Paradise Township, $1,306.29, 0.5; Pocono Township, $14,393.90, 3.6; Tobyhanna Township, $8,348.33, 2.7; Tunkhannock Township, $4,822.85, 8.0.

County schools — excepting Stroud Union — this year received or will receive $979,538.44 in state aid. Under the proposed new reimbursement fractions, this total will drop to $844,738.92. The new total represents a 13.7 per cent drop in state aid for the four districts.

FROM VIOLENCE TO HONOR—Cynthia Gelinas, 2½-month-old daughter of Jack and Barbara Gelinas of East Stroudsburg, gets put on head and tribal name in royal ceremony at Nigeria, where three weeks ago the American embassy was stormed by Nigerian mob in outburst of anti-white feeling. Cynthia is held by father, an oil company executive, as Oba Adeyose Laoye I, ruler of Ede, pats her in blessing. The ruler said baby was accepted into royal family to honor her parents, whom he described as "sort of whites we like in Nigeria." Highway Speeding Curb Legislation Is Revived On Controversial Radar

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate Tuesday revived controversial legislation that would legalize use of radar by state police to curb highway speeding.

The lawmakers agreed on a voice vote to allow the once-defeated bill to be put in position for final action again next week.

Sen. Fred Rooney, D-Northampton, chairman of the Highways Committee, said the measure would probably be put to a vote early next week. He added:

"I think we have the votes to pass it."

He voiced the same sentiment last week prior to a series of mix-ups and legislative maneuvers that saw the legislation fall one vote short of the required 26-vote constitutional majority for passage.

Republicans, who put up solid opposition to the bill last week, did not challenge efforts to revive it. But the GOP senators appeared still to be adamantly opposed to the measure. The bill is the cornerstone of Gov. Lawrence's traffic safety program.

Both Adjourned

Both houses adjourned following the death early today of Rep. Willard F. Agnew, House GOP floor leader.

The Senate returns at 3 p.m. and the House at 4 p.m. next Monday. Meanwhile, the Highways Committee sent to the floor legislation establishing a charge of homicide by motor vehicle after halving the penalty.

Rooney said the committee made the penalty change to have it conform with involuntary manslaughter provisions of the penal code.

In other legislative action:

Rep. Harry Comer, chairman of the House Highways Committee, said he expects his committee to act next week on the administration's billboard control bill.

The measure would ban billboard advertising within 666 feet of any highway on the federal interstate system, except in established commercial zones and within municipal limits.

Comer said the measure would allow the state to receive additional funds under the interstate act. The Senate State Government Committee sent to the floor a plan to have the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority bear a larger share of the cost of attracting new industry to distressed areas.

Up To 30 Percent

Under present law PIDA finances up to 30 per cent of new construction loans, with communities and banking institutions paying the rest. The proposed bill would change the ratio to 45.5 in communities where unemployment is 21 per cent or more of the labor force.

Sen. William Z. Scott, R-Carbon, chairman of a committee named last year to study alleged vote frauds in Philadelphia said his group may issue its report next week. He said the report would make recommendations for remedial legislation.

The first congressional reapportionment bill was introduced in the Senate by Sen. John J. Hall, D-Cambria.

Sponsor Quits

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. said Tuesday it will drop sponsorship of "The Untouchables" television show. But the network announced that three new sponsors immediately had picked orders for the program and it "definitely will be back next fall, completely sold out."

U.S. Strives For Nuclear Test Ban

Latins' Help Needed--JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—As a first move toward his heralded "alliance for progress," President Kennedy asked Congress Tuesday to vote $60 million on aid for Latin America.

The reaction from Latin America was apparent disappointment. In his message to Congress,

Kennedy cautioned that if the United States does not help its neighbors, "We face a grave and imminent danger that desperate peoples will turn to communism or other forms of tyranny as their only hope for change."

His specific proposals, however, asked only that Congress appropriate funds it already had authorized last year. At the request of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Congress had authorized $500 million for the U.S. share of a Pan American aid program set up by the treaty of Bogota and $100 million for rehabilitation of areas in Chile ravaged by earthquakes and fires.

Withhold Comment

Latin American governments withheld comment after Kennedy sent his message to Congress. But an undertone of disappointment was evident.

In Buenos Aires, Argentina, for example, officials privately complained of a letdown. They said Kennedy's speech had led them to expect a Marshall Plan for Latin America—with the President itemizing the dollars and cents the United States would put into a massive program.

Unveils Diplomats

At a White House reception Monday night, Kennedy unveiled for Latin American diplomats a 10-year cooperative aid program for the hemisphere. He said the program was of "towering dimension," but he put no price tags on it.

Perhaps mindful of the Latin criticism, U.S. officials privately said there was a great deal more in the President's program and message than met the eye.

Hearings Set On DV Compact

HARRISBURG (AP)—Public hearings were set by a Senate committee Tuesday on a proposal that Pennsylvania join in a federal-state compact to develop water resources on the Delaware river basin.

Sen. Leonard C. Staisley, D-Allentown, chairman of the Forests and Waters, Game and Fish Committee, announced this schedule of hearings:

March 28—Easton, Northampton County Courthouse, 10 a.m.

March 29—Philadelphia, State Office Building, 10 a.m.

April 5—Harrisburg, no time set.

Willard Agnew, House Leader, Dies At Age 36

PITTSBURGH (AP)—House Republican Leader Willard F. Agnew Jr., a young man with a bright political future, died in a hospital here Tuesday.

He had turned 36 last December 30, a few weeks after his greatest political triumph, election to the leadership post.

Friends said he had not been feeling well since a series of complications going back to the start of the session. An acute bronchial condition developed, his office said, followed by a general breakdown leading to a heart condition that ended Agnew's life.

Leaders in the legislature and state government, including Gov. Lawrence, paid tribute to his memory.

Good Morning!

Remember the good ol' days — when charity was a virtue, not an industry.

President, Walter Confer On Immigration Laws

Special To The Daily Record

WASHINGTON — Rep. Francis E. Walter and President Kennedy discussed possible changes in the United States immigration laws in a noon meeting yesterday.

The changes, Walter said in a press conference after the meeting at the White House, are necessary to relax certain features of the present laws as well as tightening up other features of the law.

Walter said he would introduce the legislation in several days and it will include some of the President's ideas.

Kennedy, the Easton Congressman said, is interested in getting rid of racketeers who have been avoiding deportation as well as reuniting families that have been separated by World War II.

When he left the White House, Walter was carrying an autographed picture of President Kennedy with the inscription: "To Congressman Francis E. Walter, a distinguished public servant — with the esteem and best wishes of his friend, John Kennedy."

Plan To Unite

As far as relaxing the present immigration laws, Walter said he and the President agreed that steps must be taken to unite immigrant families.

"At present, part of a family must wait excessively long before the rest of the family can come into the United States," Walter said. "As a result, parents and their children are separated for some periods of time."

"I deeply believe that an immigrant who joins his close relatives, who already are established in the United States, has his Americanization process greatly facilitated."

"He is much less likely to become a public charge or a welfare case because he has blood relatives, who obviously are more interested in looking after him than would a case involving what is called a 'new seed immigrant,' who is a complete stranger," Walter continued.

"On the other side of the ledger is the problem of criminals, racketeers and subversives who, by employing expensive and skilled lawyers, delay their deportation by bringing up law suits in the courts," Walter continued.

"Under the present law, whenever a new frivolous issue is raised, there is a new day in court," Walter explained. "It is only a matter of money to pay the attorney and court fees for a man to travel from court to court."

"A typical case," Walter said, "is Carlos Marcello, a racketeer, narcotics peddler and vice czar in New Orleans, who has been before the Supreme Court three times, not counting his appearances in the lower courts."

"Frank Costello's unending appeals in another example," Walter went on. "Although the Supreme Court has stripped Costello of his citizenship, he already has started litigation of his deportation."

"William Heikala, a leading Communist on the West Coast, is still another example. He was before the Supreme Court three times and 16 times before the lower courts and only his death last year put an end to this judicial farce."

Robert Investigated

Walter, chairman of the House Committee on Immigration and Nationality Policy, noted that President Kennedy's brother, Robert, now the Attorney General, had investigated a number of these racketeers as chief counsel for the McClellan Committee in the Senate's labor racketeering hearing and had recommended the proposed legislation.

The Easton Congressman has hinted that his proposed bill would give everybody a right to

'Fair Treaty' Aim In Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pledged Tuesday that the United States will do everything possible at Geneva next week to conclude agreements with the Soviet Union outlawing test explosions of nuclear weapons.

He announced that after negotiations resume next Tuesday, the United States will make proposals to the Soviet Union for "a treaty fair to all."

Kennedy made his statement after a final conference with special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean who wound up a month of policy-making sessions in Washington. After a stop in New York, Dean will fly to Geneva to represent the United States in the three-power talks.

Complete Review

Dean and Kennedy's chief disarmament adviser, John J. McCloy, have completed a review of U.S. policy in the 2½-year-old nuclear test talks.

They estimate that the United States and Britain, the other member of the conference, should know in six to eight weeks whether there actually is any hope of making a treaty prohibiting tests.

If the Soviet government does not join in producing substantial progress toward agreement by that time, Dean plans to report the state to Kennedy and the President, officials agree, will come under pressure then to order a resumption of weapons test explosions underground.

Some authorities say that failure in the round now coming up at Geneva would mean an end to current hopes for a test ban treaty and for progress in other disarmament negotiations which may be arranged.

Many provisions have already been agreed upon. The great issues which remain are those concerned with the extent and the operation of an international inspection system. The Soviets have been fighting for minimum inspection activities.

In his statement Kennedy praised Dean as a man who has "accumulated extensive experience in international negotiations of difficult and complex issues."

Ever since the talks first started in the fall of 1958, the President said, U.S. and British negotiators have tried to get agreements with the Soviet Union on a treaty prohibiting weapons tests and establishing a control system. Much groundwork has been done, Kennedy declared, but "critical issues remain to be resolved."

Kennedy did not say what issues the U.S. proposals would cover. Other authorities have indicated that the United States and Britain are prepared to compromise on provisions for the international inspection system to make the system come nearer the Soviet demands. But the Soviet Union also will have to make major concessions if a treaty is to have any chance.

Separate Bills Wouldn't Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for Roman Catholic Parochial schools testified Tuesday that separate legislation for federal aid to private schools wouldn't have much of a chance in Congress.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwyl, director of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, said it should be tied into aid for public schools because it is possible for one education bill to pass this year but not two.

Lenten Meditation

By REV. GERALD MILLER
Tannersville Methodist Church
"FOR I SAY . . . to every man . . . not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith." Romans 12:3

Self-examination seems to be especially emphasized during the Lenten season. Lent is a time for taking inventory of our spiritual lives. But, what is true self-examination? Perhaps the best way to answer this question is to point out what self-examination is not. Self-examination is not simply our own judgment of ourselves. We may tend to be completely unfair. On the one hand, we may discredit any ability that we have. We may paint ourselves completely black, spiritually. We may thus fail to recognize what God can do for and with us.

The other extreme is that we may over-rate ourselves. We may fail to take cognizance of the fact that all we have is a gift of God. We may well be taking credit to ourselves that rightly belongs to God. Secondly, self-examination is not comparing ourselves to others. Whenever we do this we are prone to use as a comparison someone to whom we feel superior. Thus, it is easy for us to consider ourselves as being good enough and without need of further spiritual growth. Even if we compare ourselves with the best of Christians we can usually find some fault in their lives and thus justify our own condition. Self-examination, in the Biblical sense of the word, means an honest evaluation of ourselves as we stand in God's sight. To make this evaluation we must seek by prayer, scripture reading and meditation to know God's standards for our lives. We must then honestly measure ourselves against these standards.

Let us as a result of such evaluation we should be led to despair, we must also come to the realization that we can only be what God would have us be if we willingly, by faith, appropriate in our lives the Grace of God which was most fully revealed at Calvary. This realization will cause us to make a full commitment of our lives to the one "who loved us and gave himself for us."

Cavalry Veteran Fighting To Get 'Last Outpost' On U.S. Map Again

By TONY CESARE
Daily Record Reporter

WHO IS Cpl. Kemble? What's more, who is this man who claims the operation of the last Cavalry outpost located just outside of Stroudsburg?

These and other queries have been resolved. But what is more important, is that the most difficult thing to do when writing about this ex-Cavalry man is knowing when to stop.

A sampling of his mementoes, manuscripts and regalia is presently on display at the First Stroudsburg National Bank. Behind it all, is a story that only Cpl. Kemble can tell.

"I have taken it upon myself to perpetuate and uphold the traditions and color of the old Cavalry," Bertram Kemble, Jr., said and this in itself sums up the ardent love he has for this one-time famous Army branch.

Earned Nickname

This attitude, plus Kemble's devotion to the cavalry and his urgent insistence that this branch of service be reinstated, earned him the nickname of "Mr. Cavalry, Himself."

One of the last of the old "horse soldiers, Kemble is now a Justice of the Peace in Jackson Township. But his love of the Cavalry continues and is evident

Handicapped Made Jobless By Fire

THREE physically handicapped East Stroudsburg men, all confined to wheelchairs, have been made jobless as a result of the $100,000 Leanna Woodcraft fire Monday night.

The three were employees of Woody's Workshop, N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, a subcontractor of the Leanna plant. The bulk of the work for the handicapped shop came from the woodcraft plant located at Stroudsburg RD 2. It manufactured wooden cabinets, tables and wooden parts for electric lamps.

They were identified as Woodrow Heller, owner of the East Stroudsburg shop; Eugene Morris and Wilbur Wheaton.

Seeking Work

As a result of the emergency, the men are seeking other work. The men are capable of performing many jobs such as fixing saws, lawnmowers, sharpening knives, repairing typewriters, repairing almost any type of electrical appliance.

Anyone interested in securing work for them may do so by contacting HA 1-8460. All work will be picked up and delivered.

Woody's Shop was functioning at a brisk pace several years ago and five men were employed to carry out the work. But a slack in business hit their operations and two men were released.

Motor Club Holds Stand On Radar

THE AAA MOTOR Club of Northeastern Pennsylvania yesterday reiterated its stand on the use of radar as it is proposed for Pennsylvania highways.

Meeting at club headquarters in Scranton, the board of directors disapproved radar in its present state, but left the way open for later acceptance of the speed-detection device.

Allan C. Hunsinger, general manager, listed three reasons for the club's present position:

- (1) The lack of realistic speed limits on the state's highways.
- (2) The technical aspects of radar should be improved to eliminate the element of human error in spotting devices on heavily traveled multiple-lane highways. The use of electrical recording graphs, etc., was suggested.
- (3) The lack of safeguards to prevent apprehension for temporary increased speeds when passing another vehicle.

Hunsinger emphasized that the club has always been closely associated with highway safety promotions, but cited instances in a number of other states where radar provides a speed-trap weapon for the enrichment of dollar-hungry towns and townships and members of the minor judiciary.

A $1 raise in membership dues, making them $10 a year effective April 1, was approved by the board after the financial report showed that operating expenses had increased all along the line. The biggest boost was in emergency road service costs, which were triple those of last year and more than double those of two years ago.

The board also reelected William E. Bright to his 11th term as president, and named the following officers: Judge C. E. Bodie, first vice president; George Hornbeck, second vice president; Reese G. Brooks, treasurer; Karl Conrad, assistant treasurer; and Hunsinger, board secretary.

Appointments to standing committees included the following three representatives from the Pocono Branch: Clifford Cramer, executive and membership committees; John M. Crandall, finance and membership; John F. Hill, house, good roads and membership.

Vets Post Nominates New Aides

ROBERT L. Hachtman and Victor Morman were nominated for the post of commander at last night's meeting of Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The election will be held Tuesday, March 28, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. in the post home. Hachtman, completing his first term as commander, is seeking reelection.

Also nominated at last night's session were Phillip Whitman and Lawrence Savacoff for senior vice commander and John Gordon as junior vice commander.

The post went on record as supporting community park projects. The membership was reported at 910 and delinquent members were urged to bring their membership up to date.

It was announced flags for the Family Flag Crusade are still available.

Health Dept. Promotions

HARRISBURG—The Health Department announced Tuesday the following appointments and promotions:

Joseph H. Zawodnik of Greenville, appointed to the Lewistown Division of Sanitation as Sanitarian I at $3,268 a year.

Samuel S. Dubin of Harrisburg, promoted from Clinical Psychologist III to Clinical Psychologist IV with an annual salary increase from $9,923 to $10,432 and transferred from the Division of Planning and Evaluation to executive office.

any time an opportunity arises for him to perform.

The spry-little horseman has what is termed the "last Cavalry outpost" in Stroudsburg, RD. 3. But Kemble does more than uphold the fine traditions of the Cavalry, a unit full of dramatic episodes.

As a former Cavalryman of the 103rd Pennsylvania Cavalry from 1920 to 1927, he has turned his experience into "my hobby and avocation" and has made hundreds of appearances in the East as "Mr. Cavalry, Himself" along with his palomino horse, "Comanche."

Appeared on TV Complete with regalia, Comanche, and a bugle, Kemble has appeared with Rex Trailer on television, has aided in the promotion of the movie "Tonka" and has performed in countless number of civic, charitable and patriotic benefits. He has done all of them without remuneration of any kind.

It is Kemble's idea that the famous horse brigade be reactivated to some degree. Nobody has mourned the passing of the Cavalry more than Kemble.

His title and his devoted duties are his method of keeping the service alive, at least to some measure, the great service it once was.

"One Cavalry regiment would have been more useful than the tanks in some Korean situations," says Kemble. "And with the centennial celebration of the Civil War this year," he continued, "there can be no finer time to demonstrate and display part of the Cavalry."

To show the youngsters what the cavalry has and what it was all about (but mostly because it's one of the dearest things to him) he puts on one-man demonstrations with his palomino horse. He shows them how the Cavalry handled mounts, Springfield and sabers and how he blew the bugle. "Mr. Cavalry, Himself" is truly a one-man show.

He is very popular in the Philadelphia area as Mr. Cavalry and articles of his exploits were written in many of the area's papers. He and his horse were seen by approximately a half million people in Philadelphia's gigantic Thanksgiving Day parade. In addition Kemble appeared on Rex Trailer Show over WCAU-TV. A veteran performer, he has twelve prize ribbons and several trophies to his credit.

In tribute to his fine works, the Burgess of Norristown, in correspondence to Kemble to participate in their annual Loyalty Day Parade commented: "we cordially invite you to participate in this parade. The people of Norristown missed you last year and are asking that you return to us this year if possible."

Such was the popularity of Mr. Cavalry. Letters from many different organizations, request the presence of Mr. Cavalry and Comanche to their events.

In another letter, written by the Jefferson-Audubon Kiwanis Club, Kemble was congratulated for making their show a success.

It stated: "Over seven hundred children were entertained, thus making our first venture of this kind a most encouraging one. Your thoughtfulness and giving of your time to see that the children had a ride on your horse (Comanche) was greatly appreciated by all of us. We feel that this contributed greatly to the success of our endeavor."

Endorsed By Many

Mr. Cavalry has the endorsements of hundreds of organizations. One in which he is particularly proud is from the Pennsylvania SPCA. In its official magazine "Animaldom" Kemble was hailed as a true humanitarian for his care lavished upon Comanche.

But the story of his exploits in the magazine also bring back vivid memories of the death of his first Comanche.

Inevitably the day came when age began to take its toll on the palomino. No longer could old Comanche prance in full regalia. His legs were stiff, his right front foot disabled and painful. After many months of veterinary treatment, with no improvement, Kemble made a final decision.

The end for Comanche came on Wednesday, Nov. 19, 1958. "The nicest horse I have ever owned or known is gone," Kemble stated at that time.

Kemble rides a new Comanche now. But the same old desire for maintaining Cavalry prestige hasn't been lost.

Robert Van Pool

Van Pool Treasurer Candidate

ROBERT E. Van Pool, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, Smithfield Township, announced his candidacy for the nomination of county treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Van Pool is a graduate of the public schools of Janesville, Wis., a resident of Philadelphia for eight years, and for 22 years a resident of Monroe County.

Married to the former Cerise Spangler, they have two children, Gloria, 18, and Geraldine, 14.

He holds memberships in various local civic and fraternal organizations.

Van Pool has been in the construction field for over 25 years and formerly was employed by Ernest J. Silfee, local building contractor. He is now devoting most of his time to campaigning for the coming primary election, May 16.

Membership At YMCA Totals 1,242

PAID memberships in the Monroe County YMCA stand at 1,242 men, women and children, the board of directors was advised last night.

E. Holt Wyckoff, membership chairman, said the YMCA has enrolled 385 boys, 369 men, 288 girls and 200 women. Since Jan. 1, he said, revenue from memberships totaled $7,771, while unpaid pledges amount to $1,720.

Allen Sterner, chairman of the youth committee, reported that he and John Wilson, general secretary, and Jack Chapman, physical director, are coordinating the youth program and are seeking someone to assist with the clubs. Volunteer workers supervise the activities of such groups as the Gra-Y, Tri-Gra-Y, Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs.

Arthur Troegner, special events chairman, said plans are going forward for the revue to be held June 15 at Tamiment and June 16 and 17 in the East Stroudsburg High School auditorium. Proceeds will go toward liquidating the debt on the YMCA bus.

Troegner said the sportsmen's show that was proposed as a benefit for the Community Chest had to be cancelled for lack of time in which to make arrangements.

Recommendations of the building committee, headed by Loring Cramer, were approved. They include repairs to the boilers at a cost estimated at $216.

The meeting was the first presided over by the new president, W.C.G. Peterson, since he took office at the annual session in February.

Wildlife Unit Spent $2,979 Aiding Deer

FOOD for the Deer and Wildlife, a non-profit organization for the preservation of area wildlife, released the following financial report for the past winter season.

The report shows receipts of $3,060.30 and expenditures of $2,979.55. The organization's balance shows $116.65.

However, the association—which was formed at the height of the near-starvation—will continue in its operations.

Ray Price, president of the group, has disclosed that 3,800 loaves of bread, over 4,000 bales of hay and 15 tons of corn were distributed over a short period for the animals.

Valence Lauded

John Valence, who accomplished a tremendous job during the whole campaign, was praised highly for his work. As public relations officer, Valence encountered numerous problems, worked diligently without pay, and fought for what he considered the best for the deer feed policies.

At the peak of the program, when new snows had caused a new crisis, Valence endured many a sleepless night as he devoted his time and skills to the care of the animals.

Thousands of others who aided in the successful feeding program were also given praise. The organization is especially appreciative of the many volunteers who distributed the food, the hundreds who contributed financially and the wonderful support of the working press throughout the East.

While pleasant weather has relieved the situation greatly, Price said that the organization is still on a standby basis. If any unforeseen crisis develops the group will continue with its duties.

Otherwise, he said, the group will resume operations in September in preparation for the next winter season. The group hopes to have a financial surplus by that time in order that their program can be carried out without any difficulty.

Funds can still be submitted to the campaign by writing to Feed the Deer and Wildlife, Box 33, Canadensis, Pa. All proceeds will be held in reserve until needed.

Farsight Used In Planning

IF YOU HAVE growing children, it will pay to do some farsighted planning when making your new home selection. You have to consider not only present needs but also those five or ten years from now.

In this particular design, the architect has done your planning for you. It works well with small youngsters and it can really pay off in conveniences as they grow into adulthood.

Key to the home's flexibility is the manner in which it avoids restricting the natural patterns of day-to-day living. The two terraces, zoned living and sleeping quarters and distinct room identification contribute to this pattern.

The freshness of the plan readily unfolds as one enters the front entrance. From this entrance point — there are three others — one can enter any number of rooms without using another as a corridor. Especially inviting is the living room with its stately floor-to-ceiling fireplace and generous dimensions. The starkness of the fireplace wall is softened by a flanking planter box and enclosed bookshelf.

Adjacent to the living room is the home's family or more descriptive "fun" room, with its private terrace and proximity to the kitchen, one does not have to be an architect to see how this room will fit into the scheme of many activities. Note also, how these two rooms seem to turn their backs on the remainder of the interior — one to obtain an atmosphere of formality and dignity and the other for entertaining and fun.

The sleeping consists of one master-size bedroom richly en-

Suggestions For Use When Painting Your Bathroom

WHAT IS THE best paint for the bathroom? Quality enamel, because its moisture resistant finish prevents vapor from seeping through the walls and subsequently damaging the wood. Also, the tough enamel coating can withstand frequent soap and water cleaning.

What are the best colors for the bathroom? We like a little flattery, particularly in the early morning when we need it most, and the most flattering colors are the pinks, roses and corals which enhance our complexion in the mirror. Pure greens and golds are also good color choices, but chartreuse and other yellow-greens are most unbecoming to skin tones.

These flattering colors are particularly advisable for bathrooms which have fluorescent lighting. Fluorescent lighting emphasizes cool blues and blue-greens, making them look even cooler and bluer.

If you definitely prefer to paint the bathroom a cool hue, select a color with some leaning toward the red family for the most becoming effect. For instance, a periwinkle blue would be better than a cold medium blue; pink lilac would be more flattering than lavender.

Whatever your color preference, be sure to use only quality enamel. Only quality enamel has lasting hiding power, retains its color brilliance, and is wear and weather resistant. To be sure that you are getting a quality product, ask a friend or neighbor who has had a satisfactory paint job which brand he used or consult your established, reputable paint dealer.

Before applying the enamel, wash away any dirt or grease smudges with soap and water. Next, fill any holes or cracks with a commercial filler and let dry thoroughly. Finally, sand any too-smooth or very glossy areas to provide better adhesion for your enamel.

While you're about your bathroom redecorating, keep the following in mind. They may prove helpful.

1. Enamel the woodwork and trim to match the walls. The color flow will make the room look larger.
2. The ceiling need not match the walls. A contrasting color in this area can be most attractive, particularly if the walls are painted a cool blue. One of the warm pinks would provide a more flattering overhead light reflection.
3. Two accent colors will enhance the decor. More can be distracting. To make towels easily distinguished, some can be of the chosen accents, other in gay patterns of these colors.
4. The wicker hamper, waste basket and other wooden or metal bathroom accessories can be enameled to match the walls or one of the chosen accent colors. Enamelling them will take a few easy strokes and will eliminate the cost of buying new ones.
5. A plant or two, either real or artificial, adds a final touch of beauty.

Check These Areas For Added Living Space

MOST families would answer with a hearty "yes" if asked whether they would like more living space in their homes. However, many wouldn't know where to find it. The answer might well be in the basement, attic, or an all-but-forgotten porch.

A house may lack any of these possibilities because of its construction or, because of present use, one or more of these areas may be out of the question. However, the Western Pine Association suggests that thoughtful planning or re-organization might release basement space, a hard-hearted tossing out of junk might free some of the attic, and the sacrificing of a little-used porch could produce that much-needed room.

Lumber and lumber paneling are excellent for giving a new lease on life to any of these locations. The 11 different kinds of wood that come from the western pine region offer, in themselves, an excellent range of choice, and they will take any finish a family may prefer. Thus, they are fine not only for wall paneling but also for built-ins that make even more of the available space. They also are economical and easy to work with.

Radio-Phono Cabinet Adds Enjoyment

WHETHER your taste in music runs to the popular or the high-brow, it adds to dancing or listening enjoyment when a radio-phonograph is housed in an attractive and practical built-in cabinet.

This is especially true with families who have bought separate components for their radio-phonograph systems. However, even when a unit is purchased in a factory-made cabinet it still is nice to have a good-sized built-in to hold it, records and, possibly, movie equipment as well.

An excellent choice of lumber for this would be any of the 11 kinds of wood from the western pine region. These economical softwoods are available through local suppliers, are easy to work with, and will take virtually any finish.

Such a built-in, made of either a knotty or clear grade of lumber, will help protect expensive equipment and records from damage and dust and will handsomely coordinate entertainment "machinery" in a living room, family room, or any other part of the house.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

The cardinals are back. That's one fine feathered friend you can't mistake — and certainly can't ignore. He goes flaming past the window and lands blazing in the snow as perky and gay as Mrs. Clifford Heller's new Spring hat.

They were particularly noticeable yesterday when they formed the only bright spot in a landscape that seems to grow more forlorn with every passing day. The Jersey hills in the distance look old and tired, their faces gray with old snow.

A dark mist covers the valleys where the Delaware and Broadheads run and near at hand crippled trees drag their branches broken by winter's burdens of snow and ice, outbuildings lean like old men on a crutch as yet another year's frost tilts their foundations further out of line.

The drip of rain from the drooping vines is as sad and slow as tears. There's the look and feel not just of gentle melancholy but of discouragement about the whole landscape.

And there comes the cardinal whooping it up: "Good cheer! Good cheer! Good cheer!"

"Oh, shut up!" I tell him crossly. After all, he's been South getting his feathers burnished up by the sun and is looking as healthy as Gladys and Elwood Hintze back with their aunties, but nobody's going to cheer up us old bedraggled starlings and sparrows who've been here all this endless winter. Not while we're in the mood to feel sorry for ourselves, they aren't.

Anna Logan Membership Drive Opens

The meeting of the Anna Logan Aux. of the General Hospital on Monday night at the YMCA launched a full scale membership drive whose purpose is to give women in all sections of the county a chance to serve the hospital which serves them all.

The meeting time was spent by the members addressing letters of invitation to key women in Bushkill, Shawnee, Mount Pocono, Saylorsburg, Tannersville and other sections where there is no active auxiliary.

"Eventually each group may wish to form an auxiliary of their own," Mrs. John Wellington, president, pointed out, "but meanwhile they may enjoy meeting with us."

The letter in addition to a full membership also offers an associate membership for those who are interested but may be unable to attend meetings.

The letter outlines the history and major activities of the Anna Logan Society which was organized about 35 years ago. The meetings are held the second Monday of each month, September through May, at 8:15 at the General Hospital and include sewing projects, business and light refreshments.

Through their sewing, the Anna Logan members have made articles for almost every department of the hospital: bedroom slippers, children's gowns, small pillows and window drapes.

The Auxiliary also has raised money for equipment for the hospital and Nurses home through summer card parties, Birthday Calendar and holiday fruit cake.

During the 1950 building campaign, the Anna Logans pledged and have kept their pledge to the tune of $10,000.

Heritage Hike Saturday To Take Senior Scouts On Historical Tour

A Heritage Hike by all the Senior Girl Scouts of the Monroe County Council will climax the local celebration of Girl Scout Week on Saturday.

Mapping out in advance historical places in the county and studying the background of those places, the Scouts will be prepared for their trip which will begin at 10 a. m. on Saturday morning at the court house.

Stroudsburg Mayor Edward Doran and E. H. Wyckoff will be on hand to start them off on their hike. A tour of the court house will be followed by a visit to two old homes on "Academy Hill." The home of the Dr. Jordan, former Easton home, and the home of Dr. and Mrs. Elton Denning, both on Thomas St.

From there they will hike to the Stroud Mansion House, built by Col. Jacob Stroud, to tour the historical museum of the Monroe County Historical Society.

Next port of call is the Stroudbury Cemetery at the grave of Summerfield Staples, "substitute" for President Lincoln in the Civil War.

Cars will meet the group at the cemetery to transport them to Brinker's Mill, Bossardville, where they will have lunch before going on to Shawnee where they will visit the site of the fort and the DePul Home.

The tour will end at another historic home, former Brown homestead, now the Pocono Art Center in East Stroudsburg.

Following the hike an International Supper has been scheduled for 5 p. m. at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church with a menu including many foreign specialties.

Guests of honor at the supper include a number of former Girl Scouts who were members during the early days of Scouting in the Stroudsburgs.

Miss Thelma Shaw, Mrs. John J. Pentz Jr., Miss Frances Everitt, Mrs. Donald Gilpin, Mrs. Harry Howell, Mrs. Thomas Reinhart, Mrs. Horace Westbrook, Mrs. Warren Miller and Mrs. Camille Harvey.

Members of Troop 14 will form a color guard and a Round-up Film will be shown.

Wyckoff

Happy eighty-sixth anniversary to YOU, our customer!

If that seems a rather peculiar thing to say on a day when the store becomes one year older and you remain gloriously in your prime, just take a look at our ads. Most people receive gifts on their birthday . . . but not a store. When Wyckoff's celebrates, it does it by giving—practically tossing merchandise at your feet with the invitation to help your self.

I know this to be a fact, because I've written some of the ads . . . and while I've written, I've drooled and yearned. Those "door busters" . . . those dresses . . . jewels . . . the hosiery . . . There's just no end to the things I'd like to rush out and buy right now at the big savings Wyckoff's offers.

Just last Saturday I wandered into our receiving room, and watched Dottie Neupert ticketing jewelry. It gleamed enticingly, and made the whole roof brighter and more Springlike. "Is that our anniversary jewelry?" I asked. She said it was . . . and right then and there, I began wishing I could just go out and buy drawers . . . for birthday, Valentine, and Christmas giving . . . for special occasions . . . and for me!

I love anniversaries. I love my own, because I enjoy surprise packages. And I love our store's, because it means the annual party for old time customers; it means bargain hunting by the multitude . . . it means thousands of satisfied, happy shoppers thronging every exciting department. And, in the case of both Wyckoff's birthday and my own, it means that Spring is very definitely, very colorful in the air.

Why not shop Wyckoff's today and every day, from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. We wouldn't want you to miss anything . . . and WE wouldn't like missing YOU!

A GLIMPSE AT THE MAIL—To "Jack with jack": Thank you, I'm flattered! Flattered . . . but not interested.

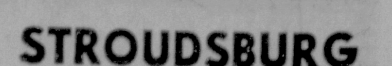

To "Curious": You have been misinformed. I have NEVER refused to appear before any organization that has approached me, although I may have requested a date other than suggested because of conflict. I have only in two instances, to my remembrances, "cancelled out", both times because of illness, and I have NEVER demanded a fee from any club or group regardless of how much work or trouble their requests involved.

Most certainly I would not ask a fee from any church. I do little enough for God, and, if He has given me any talents that will benefit anyone, I feel they should be offered his churches FREE. It is true some groups have given me gifts, which I prize and which were a pleasant surprise. The other truth is, a greater number haven't even written a note of thanks! Just one more thought—most of my requests to appear before groups come from those who know me from our Wyckoff radio program and column. Since they are kind enough to be interested, I regard an appearance before them as public relations for the store—part of my job.

Thank you for writing, in any case. I'm irked, to be sure, but it's good to straighten things out—particularly when they are so untrue.

The mail also brings a very gracious letter from the publicity department of the United States Lines inviting me to visit the S. S. United States Wednesday, March 29th, to tape a radio program. I'm sure my listeners would enjoy a visit aboard a liner, so maybe it can be arranged. Now . . . does anyone have any tips on how to become an undetected stowaway?

ROBERT Nichols will seek the Republican nomination for school director from Smithfield Township, during the May primary election.

You've Got No Choice

Dear Abby: There is a girl who works in a restaurant who refuses to have any kind of date with me. She is not married (I have checked) and has no steady boy friend. I have had other people intercede on my behalf and I have asked her myself several times, but she always turns me down with some excuse.

Don't tell me to forget her and find another girl because she is the only girl who really appeals to me. I think about her all the time. I have written letters to her and have even sent her presents, but she sends them back. How can I get a date with her?

WON'T GIVE UP

Dear Abby: Quit forcing your attentions on the girl before she asks someone to intercede on HER behalf. It is apparent that she is not interested in dating you. Look elsewhere.

Dear Abby: My girl friend has lost my ring. It was solid gold and I got it for my Bar Mitzvah. I am afraid my mother will slaughter me when she finds out because she doesn't even know I let this girl wear it. Please tell me what to do.

SCARED

Dear Abby: Perhaps it was insured, in which case you are in luck. Fess up and take your punishment like the man you are supposed to be.

Dear Abby: My father was a brilliant business executive who married a beautiful bird-brained woman who "yessed" him all his life and made him feel like a big man.

I am their 6-foot son who inherited his mother's looks and, unfortunately, her brains. I do not have college level mentality and my father is crucifying me because I can't get into a good college and follow in his royal footsteps.

Please tell college boys not to pick the cute little bird-brained dolls for dating purposes because, even though they have no intention of marrying the dummies, they usually wind up married to them. Then their handsome bird-brained sons who can't get into college and they are sick with disappointment. Tell those guys to marry coeds who have good mental equipment and can bear them children who will be able to handle their fortunes. Let idiots marry idiots.

This would be a Luxury to millions overseas

A bottle of milk, a loaf of bread, a potato—all the basic foods we take for granted—would be a luxury to millions of people overseas. The problem of food is but one. So is clothing, shelter, the lack of equipment to build lives anew. These problems touch people of all ages, races, colors—the victims of displacement, earthquake, poverty, flood, famine... war.

How can you help? Give support to the overseas aid program of your religious faith. These programs provide food (yes, even milk), tools, clothing, homes, jobs, farm machinery, education and technical training. When your religious faith makes its appeal—give generously—you give hope to millions!

Road Projects Hearings Set

HARRISBURG (AP)—Public hearings will be held if they are requested on proposed highway construction in Washington and Bucks counties, the Highways Department announced yesterday.

The Washington County project would relocate 12 miles of state Rt. 22. The relocation would run from the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line at Hanover Twp. to Robinson Twp. just west of the Allegheny-Washington county line.

The department said construction plans are available for public inspection at its district engineer's office in Uniontown. Hearing requests must be submitted in writing on or before March 30.

The Bucks County project would relocate 10 miles of U. S. 1.

Construction is to begin on the existing route about a half mile east of Langhorne Manor Borough at Woods School and run to the Morrisville Bridge that leads to the Trenton N.J. Freeway.

The department said construction plans are at its Haverford, Montgomery County, district office. Hearing requests must be submitted in writing on or before April 7.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson, bruised in flesh and pride, planned Tuesday to make his next title defense for the reorganized Feature Sports Inc. in New York in late summer.

Britain's Henry Cooper, Eddie Machen and Sonny Liston were mentioned as possible opponents by the promoter.

The 26-year-old boxer from Rockville Centre, N.Y., emphasized that he will call the shots in all future dealings. He said he expected to fight at least twice a year.

"As far as Cus (D'Amato) and I are concerned," said Patterson, "he still is my manager. He still will get one-third. We are still as close as ever. But I am making the decisions on which direction I will go. Gus will negotiate some things and he'll come to me to see if it is all right."

Bounced Back

Patterson bounced back from the two first round knockdowns Monday night, floored Ingemar Johansson in a wild first round and knocked out the Swede in 2:45 of the sixth round of their third and possibly last meeting.

The bout drew 15,000 people, paying $500,000, at Convention Hall. An estimated 487,500 paid $2,437,000 in theater TV and $800,000 came from other supplementary rights.

Patterson is expected to wind up with around $900,000 and Johansson with $700,000 from all proceeds. The federal government immediately hit Johansson with a $1 million tax bill. The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service advised airlines to see that the Swede did not leave the country.

Johansson, accused by the government of failing to pay $598,181 of his 1960 income, was told he is being sued for another $411,620—bringing the total to $1,009,801—on his 1961 income.

Will Wait

"I haven't figured out my next opponent yet," said the champion at a news conference, peering through a swollen and battered left eye. "I have decided to wait until my eye goes down."

"Feature Sports will promote the next fight also. I have found them fair people. I like Tom Bolan (new executive director) and have learned to like Roy Cohn (a leading stockholder)."

When Liston's name was mentioned the other day, Patterson said he wouldn't fight him until Liston "got rid of some of the people around him." He refused to identify these men again Tuesday.

"They know who they are," he said. "They'll have to take a back seat."

He added with a half-smile: "I'm not looking to get bumped off."

Patterson said he planned to leave for New York late Tuesday by train. After a three-week vacation, he plans to return to work at Newtown, Conn., but not in the same camp where he prepared for his second bout with Johansson last year.

Floyd Disappointed

As for the fight itself, Patterson was disappointed.

"I thought I looked terrible," he said, "but I am very, very happy that I won. I showed no skill at all, only determination. I know my reflexes and coordination were off. I don't know why. I have no excuses. The weight (194½, heaviest of career) didn't hurt me. I think maybe his weight (Johansson's 205½ pounds) helped him."

"I knew I'd have to gamble like he was doing. He jumped on me in the first round. I knew I had to take punches to land mine."

Ingo Says He Doesn't Owe Back Taxes; Won't Retire

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, knocked out by Champion Floyd Patterson Monday night in their third fight for the world heavyweight title, learned Tuesday that he won't be allowed to go home until he discusses a million dollar tax claim with U.S. government officials.

Johansson received notices temporarily barring his exit from this country in his dressing room after the fight at Miami Beach. He also was subpoenaed to appear Wednesday in Miami in connection with the tax claim of $1,009,801 in connection with Monday night's fight with Patterson and their 1960 bout.

Tuesday airlines and steamship lines received a warning from the Immigration Service against giving Johansson transportation to his native Sweden or any other country.

Will Stay

Johansson, at a press conference here, said he doesn't plan to leave soon. He intends to stay in the United States at least a couple of weeks resting and visiting friends.

"My lawyers have told me I have nothing to worry about," Johansson said.

Johansson's contention is that he is employed as a business agent for a Swiss corporation known as Scannart, S.A., and that no taxes are due by him or by Scannart because of a tax covenant between the United States and Switzerland which provides for tax exemption for income-producing activities not involving a permanent trade or business.

The government has asked for $598,181.92, plus interest, as taxes due from Johansson on the 1960 bout and $411,620 on his 1961 income.

Johansson said flatly Tuesday that he thought he had been up before the 10 count. But he didn't protest because "to start arguing with the referee, that's silly and it sort of looks bad."

He insisted he could have survived the remainder of the sixth round and come back, just as Patterson recovered after two knockdowns. He said his head was clear and he "didn't know" about Referee Billy Regan's statement that he was glassy-eyed.

He said he wasn't surprised that Patterson got up "because I didn't know how long it would take him to throw another crack at the world title."

"I would like to fight (Sonny) Liston" he said. "He is ranked under Patterson or I would like to fight (Henry) Cooper. But I should think they would want to fight for the championship."

Will Serve As President

Weiss Back With New York But It's In National Loop

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new National League team in New York Tuesday made its most important move since its organization last year by luring George Weiss out of retirement to serve as its president for the next five years.

The famed baseball executive, who as general manager of the New York Yankees, was responsible for the creation of 10 pennant winners and seven world champions in 13 years, will assume duties immediately although the club will not begin operation until 1962.

Weiss, 65 originally was contracted last Feb. 22. He accepted with the full approval of Dan Topping, president of the Yankees, with whom Weiss has been serving as consultant since his resignation last October.

On Yanks Payroll

Weiss is still under salary by the Yankees on a carry-over contract which has five more years to run. Asked whether he could, under baseball law, receive an income from two major league clubs, Weiss answered:

"I see no reason why not as long as one is not dependent on the other and there is no conflict of interest. Actually my income from the Yankees is at a reduced scale and represents deferred compensation. It is money I earned the previous year. That income will be further adjusted now that I'm with another club."

Weiss Disclosed that a clause in his contract with the Yankees stipulated that he could not accept a job as general manager of another major league club for one year.

Hurt Continues

Donald Grant, who stepped down as president of the New York National League team to become head of the board of directors, emphasized that Charles Hurth would continue as general manager of the club.

"We're fortunate in having acquired Mr. Weiss," he said. "We felt it necessary for us to have a thoroughly versed man and we feel we could not have made a better choice. He will have as free a hand as any man could hope for."

Grant said that his original choice for president had been Branch Rickey but that he had withdrawn his offer to the former head of the ill-fated Continental League when Weiss became available.

Al Bessecker's Diner and Ballantine engaged in a match of four digit games. Both teams had two games over 1000. The Diner set league high match with games of 1064, 929 and 1010 and a total of 3003. is made to the present stockholders of Glen Brook. The buyers made a down payment several weeks ago.

The change of ownership involves the buying up of the old stock by the Nixon-Baldwin group and the sale of new stock. Baldwin is the only previous stockholder listed among the new owners.

Hockey Coach

If the sale is completed, and it appears an almost certainty, the new owners will hire Paul Patten, of Cornell University as the club's general manager.

Patten is the Cornell ice hockey coach and also assistant football coach. He was previously the head football coach at St. Lawrence University.

John Andrews, the present greenskeeper, will be retained by the new group. The decision on hiring or re-hiring other employees will be made at a meeting of the buyers March 22.

Semi-Private

The prospective owners plan to continue the operation of the semi-private club as in previous years. There will be a seasonal membership and also a daily greens fee for non-members.

The country club has an 18-hole golf course, swimming pool, club house and detached pro shop. The club is about a mile west of Stroudsburg on Glen Brook road.

The club will open for the summer season early in April.

NCAA Opens With Only One Upset

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Crawford and All-American Tom Stith combined for 63 points Tuesday night at St. Bonaventure, staggered by a firebrand Rhode Island team, swept from behind for an 86-75 victory in the second game of a NCAA Eastern Regional first round triple-header at Madison Square Garden.

Princeton's Ivy Leaguers, winning their first game ever in CAA basketball, upset George Washington 84-67 in the opener.

St. John's met Wake Forest in the windup, watched by a crowd of over 15,000.

Crawford Has 34

Crawford, one of the best of a fine sophomore crop in college basketball this season, scored 34 points in a spectacular performance that overshadowed that of Stith, his more publicized teammate. Stith added 29 points and playmaker Whitey Martin 17, so the trio accounted for all but six of the points scored by a Bonnies, the nation's No. 3 ranked team.

With 15 minutes to play, the Rams had a 55-50 lead and St. Bonaventure, which entered the NCAA to try for another crack at mighty Ohio State, was obviously worried.

Then the Bonnies erupted and out scored Rhode Island 18-2, sweeping to a 68-58 lead. The closest Rhode Island got after that was at six points 78-72 with 3½ minutes left.
